

What Teachers and Schoolchildren Say about Teresa

On more than one occasion, students have opted to skip recess to stay and hear more from Teresa. She takes this as the highest compliment!

"The junior high students truly enjoyed Teresa's motivating talk. And many commented they loved her book. She has inspired many of us here."

*Joanna L. Keiss, Librarian,
St. Joseph School*

"The kids learned SO much from Teresa about writing and WWII. They were even able to make connections between that war and others!"

Jill Fenn, fifth grade teacher, McGraw Elementary

"Thank you for teaching us about WWII. I learned so much from you about the war. I never knew that kids were so important in this time."

Brittany, fifth grade

"Thank you for coming to our class and talking about your books and WWII. I learned so much!!! Our class was lucky you came."

Joanie, fifth grade

"Thank you for coming to our school to teach us cool information!"

McKenna, fifth grade

"I read Remember Wake in one day. I could not put it down. And you really are a wonderful speaker."

Julian, junior high

"Your presentation inspired me to read and write more."

Kara, junior high

"It was amazing to me how interested I became in what you were saying. I can honestly say that was the quietest I've ever seen the seventh and eighth grade classes!"

Caito, junior high

"I really enjoyed your presentation. You inspired me to try to find something I love to do."

Emily, junior high

"Your speech inspired me to want to follow my dreams even more. Thank you SO much for coming. You made a real difference."

Kaitlin, junior high

"Before you came, I never really thought about how much different my life would be in another time and place. I may never write a book, but now I might try a little harder on my school writing assignments."

Kalinda, junior high

"Your presentation truly inspired me to voice my feelings about the world around me."

Daniel, junior high

"I loved your presentation. You are cool."

Chris, junior high
