

Our Family History

Author Teresa Funke came to our school to teach us about writing skills and the value of history. She is the author of the Home-Front Heroes children's series, which was inspired by the stories of real people who lived as children during WWII. You can see pictures of the people she interviewed on her website at www.teresafunke.com. Teresa encourages students to learn more about their personal history and write about it. You can send her an email at Teresa@teresafunke.com

Directions: Please discuss the following questions with your family members and record the answers below. You can use multiple sheets of paper for your answers if needed.

1. What members of our family (men, women, and children) were involved in World War II? What did they do?

2. Where did the majority of our family live during World War II (1941-1945)?

3. How did our family make a living during wartime?

4. Memories: Interview family members such as grandparents or great-grandparents to find out what their life was like when they were growing up.
